SUMMER SCHOOL GETS 70 PUPILS

Seventy uncertificated teachers, in the employ of the department of Public Instruction have enrolled themselves for the summer term which starts Monday at the Normal school and will continue for a period of four weeks.

J. C. Davis, supervising principal of the Royal School, has been given the directorship of the Summer school and will be assisted by a faculty of seven. A board of examiners, separate from the school faculty, will give the examinations which are to take place August 5-7. This board consists of the inspector of schools and four supervising principals. No tuition fee is charged but all entrants must be employee of the Department of Public Instruction.

Every steamer has been bringing in teachers from the other islands. Some of these teachers are in Honolulu on visits, others are leaving for the mainland while still others are enrolling themselves for the summer term.

AUTO AXLE BREAKS BUT ACCIDENT AVERTED

A serious automobile accident was averted this morning by the fact, that C. C. Cunha was driving slowly and uphill, when the rear axle of his car broke on Nuuanu avenue just below the Afoke home. When the gears would not "go in" he stopped the car and got out to see what was the trouble. Discovering no reason for their refusing to work, he got in the car and started to back. The carriage of the car immediately sank to the ground. Examination showed that one of the rear axles had been fractured and had been held only by a small portion of steel for sometime.

Speaking of the accident Mr. Cunha said: "It would have been a dreadful spill if I had been driving fast. It is probable that the axle had been broken six weeks or more ago, and not discovered, as the rear wheel are never taken off to oil. My father and sister were in the car with me."

The extracts recently imported from the Grasse district of France by Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., are made from flowers and are not the product of coal tar. Grasse is the center of the world for perfumes and these are said to be the best.

ORDERS INQUEST ON MURDER CASE

Deputy Sheriff Rose will hold an inquest over the body of Manuel Sousa at half past seven this evening at the Government morgue. Francis Mesquita, who is being held at the police station accused of the murder of Sousa, will be held pending the coroner's verdict.
Sousa died early yesterday morning at the Queen's hospital as the result of wounds received late Tuesday night in a stabbing affray with Mesquita. Sousa's wife, who was slightly wounded during the struggle, was discharged from the hospital yesterday. The police declare that they have sufficient evidence upon which to convict Mesquita and are awaiting the coroner's verdict to charge him with the murder.

If the charge is entered tonight, Mesquita will probably be arraigned Monday. According to the police, Mesquita has a police record in Portugal and twelve years ago was sentenced to serve twenty-five years in prison on the charge of murdering an old fisherman.

MAUI NEWS

[Special Correspondence, Star-Bulletin.]

WAILUKU, July 5.—One of the pleasantest card parties of the year was given by Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Copeland at their residence in Wailuku last Friday evening. A large number of the members were present, and they thoroughly enjoyed themselves. The house decorations for the evening were red, white and blue flowers in honor of the near approach of the celebration of the independence of the Hawaiian Islands. The refreshments of the evening, while the delicious cake that was served was of the ribbon variety in the national colors. Bags of firecrackers each guest carried away as a souvenir of the pleasant occasion. Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Penhallow invited a number of their friends last Saturday evening to a novel kind of entertainment, which proved most enjoyable. Automobiles took the guests to the Wailuku Sugar Company's railroad track, where a locomotive with two cars awaited them. On these cars were seats arranged, and a moonlight ride to Waiehe and then to Waikapu was enjoyed. The beautiful moonlight, the cane on both sides of the track, the mountains in the distance, the party was most attractive. The party was decidedly congenial, so that all who went had "the time of their lives." Supper was served at the Malaea end of the railroad.

Rev. William S. Short leaves this evening for a month's service at the St. Andrew's Cathedral. His parishioners and many friends on Maui will greatly miss him, but all are glad he can have the pleasant change of scene and occupation for a time. His pulpit here at Wailuku and at Paunaea will be supplied by the Rev. Messrs. Wallace of Kona, Hawaii, Bodol and Weymouth of Lahaina.

Rev. D. D. Wallace of Kealahou, Hawaii, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. N. S. Williams of Kahului this week. Rev. Mr. Wallace will preach next Sunday morning at the Church of the Good Shepherd in Wailuku.

Mrs. C. E. Copeland leaves tomorrow for a vacation in Honolulu. Mr. Copeland will join her later.

Miss Carrie Short will spend the month of July in Honolulu.

At the meeting of the Hawaii Promotion Committee yesterday, gratifying responses were read from railroad men and others to the appeal for cooperation in Walter G. Smith's lecture campaign on the mainland. Chairman Hoogs, who lately returned from the Coast, said Portland city appropriated $75,000 for its rose carnival and the Elks lodge guaranteed $50,000 more. The committee voted to aid Loyd Childes of Los Angeles in a vaudeville lecture tour on which he will take eight Hawaiian singing boys.

BARNES-WEST SKETCH TEAM ENJOYS JO'BURG

George Barnes and Irene West, who will be remembered as showing at the Park theatre here a couple of years ago, are now in South Africa on their third tour around the world. They were considered the best dancing team Honolulu has seen and Miss West was referred to in the local press as the girl with the educated feet. Under date of May 10 they write from Johannesburg as follows:
From Rio de Janeiro we opened at the Grand Theatre, Johannesburg, South Africa, or Joburg, as the natives call it. We were surprised to find this city of 150,000 whites, supporting one first-class music hall, and four smaller houses playing from three to four acts and pictures, besides several straight picture palaces. "At the present time there are three distinct circuits in South Africa, each importing talent for their respective tours. Sydney Hyman still continues to bring out the best available talent for eight weeks at the Empire, Joburg, but the numerous cheaper priced vaudeville theatres have told in the receipts of this once famous music hall. The Grand Theatre Company, Ltd., can give acts on an average of 12 weeks, playing them in all the principal cities in South Africa. They are doing big business throughout the country. The Grand Theatre, Joburg, gives two shows nightly, and is coining money. They are obliged to turn people away at every performance.
"The work is easy, as this is the only house where two shows a night are given. The rest of the tour is one show a night, one matinee and no Sunday work. We are now in our tenth week on the circuit and have found everything very satisfactory. First-class treatment and appreciative audiences.
The opposition circuit is called the Amalgamated Theatres of South Africa. They can offer about the same number of weeks and have two theatres in Joburg called the Orpheum and Bijou. The work however is not so satisfactory, as they have a good many split-weeks on their circuit, playing acts only three days in the smaller towns.
"Railway jumps in South Africa are very big, and take from eighteen to 48 hours to cover. Of course they pay all transportation and baggage hauling and excess. I was surprised to find sleepers and dining car service remarkably cheap here. S. A. promises to open up a big field for vaudeville and affords artists a fine opportunity of breaking the jump from England to Australia. The Sydney Hyman and Rickard's tour, and Grand Theatre's Ltd., and Brennan tour, often book in conjunction with each other.
"There are many well known English and American actors playing the different tours in South Africa at the present time. We have thoroughly enjoyed our three months' stay in this country, and have scored heavily in our comedy and dancing act. The climate is great, also the richness and the Kafir war dances. While playing Kimberley (the little town that controls the diamond market of the entire world) we had the good fortune to meet the general manager of De Beers Consolidated Diamond Mines, Mr. Alfred Williams, an American and a native of San Francisco. Imagine a good old Yankee sitting at the wheel of such a gigantic concern, the market valuation of which is $325,000,000 (three hundred and twenty-five million dollars) A mere trifle. What!
"At his personal direction we were shown over the diamond fields, through the compound and pulsator, where we saw the process of finding diamonds, from the time they are dug out of the earth until ready to send to Amsterdam to be cut. We played Durban last week and saw Billy Potter (of Potter & Hartwell) who is still suffering from a broken knee cap, sustained from falling off the stage, which was only a temporary one and none too safe. He has brought in a damage suit for $10,000. Another fortnight will see us once more on the briny deep, as we sail for Sydney June 1st, to commence a six months' tour of Australasia. Regards to all friends. Will write more from the land of the kangaroo.
"Yours merrily,
"BARNES & WEST,
"The American Globe Trotters."
